

10 QUESTIONS FOR BIODIVERSITY

KAREN KLONSKY

1. Are you willing to take land out of production to increase biodiversity on your farm?
2. Do you consider providing wildlife habitat one way to improve living and working conditions on your farm?
3. Do you strive to manage resources in cooperation with nature?
4. Do you always want to stay one step ahead of other farmers?
5. Does exchanging information with other farmers help you stay innovative?
6. Are you willing to invest in new technology to protect the environment?
7. Do you think that farmers are already good stewards of the land and don't need regulation?
8. Do you experiment with new methods of production?
9. Are you willing to sacrifice yield or quality to use environmentally - friendly techniques?
10. Do you think of your cash crop as habitat?